BUSINESS AND ECONOMY

➤ Which organisation released a report 'Net Zero by 2050: a Roadmap for the Global Energy Sector'?

- A) WEF
- B) Niti Aayog
- C) CCI
- D) NHAI
- E) IEA

Answer

E) IEA

BUSINESS AND ECONOMY

Explanation

- The pathway to building a global energy sector with net-zero emissions in 2050 is narrow and requires an unprecedented transformation of how energy is produced, transported and used globally, the International Energy Agency said in a special report released.
- Climate pledges by governments to date – even if fully achieved – would fall well short of what is required to bring global energy-related carbon dioxide (CO₂) emissions to net zero by 2050 and give the world an even chance of limiting the global temperature rise to 1.5°C, according to the report, 'Net Zero by 2050: a Roadmap for the Global Energy Sector'.

BUSINESS AND ECONOMY

Explanation

- The report is a comprehensive study of how to transition to a net zero energy system by 2050.
- Building on the IEA's unrivalled energy modelling tools and expertise, the Roadmap sets out more than 400 milestones to guide the global journey to net zero by 2050.
- These include, no investment in new fossil fuel supply projects, and no further final investment decisions for new unabated coal plants.
- By 2035, there are no sales of new internal combustion engine passenger cars, and by 2040, the global electricity sector has already reached net-zero emissions.

BUSINESS AND ECONOMY

Renewable Push:

- The pathway calls for annual additions of solar PV to reach 630 gigawatts by 2030, and those of wind power to reach 390 gigawatts.
- Together, this is four times the record level set in 2020.
- Total annual energy investment surges to $5 trillion by 2030 in the net zero pathway, adding an extra 0.4 percentage points a year to global GDP growth, based on a joint analysis with the International Monetary Fund.
- The jump in private and government spending creates millions of jobs in clean energy, including energy efficiency, as well as in the engineering, manufacturing and construction industries.

BUSINESS AND ECONOMY

Renewable Push:

- All of this puts global GDP 4 per cent higher in 2030 than it would reach based on current trends.
- The special report is designed to inform the high-level negotiations that will take place at the 26th Conference of the Parties (COP26) of the United Nations Climate Change Framework Convention in Glasgow in November.
- It was requested as input to the negotiations by the UK government's COP26 Presidency.
