➤ What is the primary objective of Project Cheetah, and how many cubs have survived in Kuno National Park?

- A) Protecting endangered cheetahs; 17 cubs survived
- B) Breeding cheetahs in captivity; 10 cubs survived
- C) Reintroducing cheetahs into the wild; 12 cubs survived
- D) Enhancing genetic diversity; 20 cubs survived
- E) Preserving African wildlife in India; 8 cubs survived

Answer

C) Reintroducing cheetahs into the wild;
12 cubs survived

Event and Location:

- Event: Two-Year Anniversary of Project Cheetah
- Location: Kuno National Park, Madhya Pradesh, and Banni Grasslands, Gujarat
- Date: 17th September 2024

Mandates and Objectives:

- Project Cheetah Overview:
 - Project Cheetah aims to reintroduce cheetahs into India, a species that had gone extinct in the country.
 - Twenty cheetahs were brought to India in the first-ever intercontinental translocation, with 8 from Namibia in September 2022 and 12 from South Africa in February 2023.
- Cheetah Cubs and Survival Rate:
 - So far, 17 cubs have been born in India, with 12 cubs surviving, bringing the total number of cheetahs in Kuno National Park to 24, including adults and cubs.

Mandates and Objectives:

- Kenya's Role in Project Cheetah:
 - India is awaiting Kenya's approval to bring in a new batch of cheetahs, and discussions are ongoing to finalize the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU).
- Breeding Centre in Gujarat:
 - A conservation breeding centre is being developed in Banni grasslands, Gujarat, which will also receive cheetahs from Kenya.
 - The centre can accommodate 16 cheetahs in its 500-hectare enclosure.

Challenges and Measures:

- Mortality:
 - Since their arrival, 8 adult cheetahs have died, with causes ranging from infection, drowning, and wounds under winter coats.
- Prey Base and Management:
 - The number of cheetahs released into the wild will depend on the prey population in Kuno National Park and Gandhi Sagar Wildlife Sanctuary.
 - Prophylactic medicines are administered to prevent infections, but failure to administer them might require the recapture of the animals.

Important Terms Explained:

- Intercontinental Translocation:
 - The process of moving animals from one continent to another for conservation purposes. In this case, cheetahs were relocated from Africa to India.
- Prophylactic Medicines:
 - Medications given to prevent infections or diseases before they occur.
