➤ Which country became the first in the United Kingdom to legalise water cremation (alkaline hydrolysis) as a greener alternative to traditional cremation?

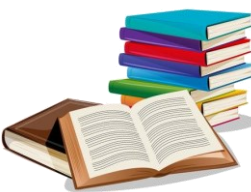

- A) England
- B) Scotland
- C) Wales
- D) Northern Ireland
- E) Republic of Ireland

Answer
B) Scotland

Event and Location:

- Event: Scotland legalised water cremation (alkaline hydrolysis) as a new environmentally friendly funeral option alongside burial and traditional cremation.
- Location: Scotland, United Kingdom
- Date: 2026 (Implementation expected by summer 2026)

Mandates and Objectives:

- Mandates: The Scottish Government approved the legal use of water cremation, also known as alkaline hydrolysis, allowing funeral providers to offer it as a third option in addition to burial and flame cremation.
- Objectives: The initiative aims to reduce environmental impact of funeral practices, lower carbon emissions from cremation processes, and provide families with sustainable end-of-life options.

Important Terms Explained:

- Water Cremation: Water cremation is a method of body disposition that uses water, heat, and alkaline chemicals to accelerate natural decomposition, producing remains similar to cremated ashes with significantly lower emissions.
- Alkaline Hydrolysis: Alkaline hydrolysis is a scientific process in which the body is placed in a pressurized chamber with water and potassium hydroxide, heated to about 150°C, causing soft tissues to dissolve while leaving bones that are later processed into powder.

Important Terms Explained:

- Green Cremation: Green cremation refers to environmentally friendly alternatives to traditional cremation that reduce carbon emissions, energy consumption, and air pollution.

➤ The Echinus Geyser, which erupted again after six years in 2026, is located in which geothermal basin of Yellowstone National Park?

- A) Upper Geyser Basin
- B) Norris Geyser Basin
- C) Lower Geyser Basin
- D) West Thumb Basin
- E) Mud Volcano Basin

Answer

B) Norris Geyser Basin

Event and Location:

- Event: Echinus Geyser, the world's largest acidic geyser, erupted again after a six-year dormant period.
- Location: Norris Geyser Basin, Yellowstone National Park, United States
- Date: 7 February 2026

Mandates and Objectives:

- Mandates: The United States Geological Survey (USGS) confirmed the renewed activity of Echinus Geyser in Yellowstone National Park after it remained inactive since 2020.
- Objectives: The observation aims to study geothermal activity, monitor volcanic and hydrothermal systems, and enhance scientific understanding of geyser behavior and Earth's geothermal processes.

Important Terms Explained:

- Geyser: A geyser is a geothermal spring that periodically erupts due to pressure buildup from underground heated water and steam, releasing hot water and steam into the air.
- Acidic Geyser: An acidic geyser contains water with high acidity formed by volcanic gases mixing with groundwater, which can gradually dissolve surrounding rocks.
- Norris Geyser Basin: The Norris Geyser Basin in Yellowstone National Park is the hottest and most dynamic geothermal area in the park, known for its unpredictable geyser activity.

➤ The Ashmolean Museum at the University of Oxford returned a 16th-century bronze idol of Saint Thirumankai Alvar to India in 2026. The idol originally belongs to which temple in Tamil Nadu?

- A) Meenakshi Amman Temple
- B) Shri Soundararaja Perumal Temple
- C) Brihadeeswara Temple
- D) Ranganathaswamy Temple
- E) Kapaleeshwarar Temple

Answer

B) Shri Soundararaja Perumal Temple

Event and Location:

- Event: Ashmolean Museum returned a 16th-century bronze idol of Saint Thirumankai Alvar to India as part of cultural heritage repatriation efforts.
- Location: Oxford, United Kingdom to Tamil Nadu, India
- Date: March 2026

Mandates and Objectives:

- Mandates: The Ashmolean Museum formally handed over the 16th-century bronze idol of Saint Thirumankai Alvar to Indian authorities at India House, enabling the artefact to be returned to its original temple in Thadikombu, Tamil Nadu.
- Objectives: The repatriation aims to restore India's cultural and religious heritage, strengthen India–UK cooperation in heritage protection, and support international efforts to return cultural artefacts acquired under questionable circumstances.

Important Terms Explained:

- Saint Thirumankai Alvar: Thirumankai Alvar was one of the twelve Alvars, the Vaishnavite poet-saints devoted to Lord Vishnu, whose devotional hymns form an important part of Tamil Bhakti literature.
- Repatriation of Cultural Artefacts: Repatriation refers to the return of cultural objects or heritage items to their country of origin, especially when they were removed through illicit trade, colonial acquisition, or questionable transactions.

Important Terms Explained:

- UNESCO Convention on Cultural Property: The 1970 UNESCO Convention aims to prevent illegal import, export, and transfer of ownership of cultural property, encouraging countries to cooperate in returning stolen or illegally exported artefacts.

- The GI-tagged Karbi Anglong Ginger, which was exported to London for the first time in 2026, belongs to which Indian state?

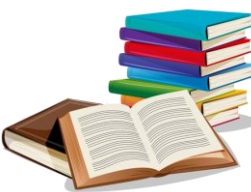

- A) Meghalaya
- B) Assam
- C) Nagaland
- D) Arunachal Pradesh
- E) Manipur

Answer
B) Assam

Event and Location:

- Event: First international export of GI-tagged Karbi Anglong Ginger from Assam to London.
- Location: Karbi Anglong district, Assam, India → London, United Kingdom
- Date: 2 March 2026

Mandates and Objectives:

- Mandates: The Government of Assam, with support from APEDA, exported a trial consignment of 1.2 metric tonnes of GI-tagged Karbi Anglong Ginger to London, marking its first entry into international markets.
- Objectives: The initiative aims to promote GI-tagged agricultural products from Assam, increase farmers' income, expand India's presence in global spice markets, and strengthen agricultural exports.

Important Terms Explained:

- Karbi Anglong Ginger: Karbi Anglong Ginger is a distinctive variety of ginger grown in the Singhasan Hills of Karbi Anglong district in Assam, known for its strong aroma, high oil content, and bold flavour.
- Geographical Indication (GI) Tag: A GI Tag identifies products originating from a specific geographical region and possessing unique qualities due to that origin. In India, it is regulated under the Geographical Indications of Goods (Registration and Protection) Act, 1999.

Important Terms Explained:

- APEDA: The Agricultural and Processed Food Products Export Development Authority (APEDA) promotes the export of agricultural and processed food products from India and supports farmers and exporters in accessing global markets.
