- How many ₹10 and ₹20 polymer banknotes each has the government approved for RBI field trials?

- A) 100 million
- B) 500 million
- C) 750 million
- D) 1 billion
- E) 2 billion

Answer
D) 1 billion.

Event and Location:

- Event: The Reserve Bank of India received government approval to issue one billion each of ₹10 and ₹20 polymer banknotes for field trials.
- Location: The trials will be conducted under the Indian currency management system across selected locations in India.
- Date: The approval was reported on July 28, 2026.

Mandates and Objectives:

- Mandates: The RBI will issue limited quantities of ₹10 and ₹20 polymer notes to evaluate their performance under different climatic and circulation conditions.
- Objectives: The trials aim to assess durability, security, handling efficiency, replacement costs, and the feasibility of wider public circulation.

Important Terms Explained:

- Polymer Banknotes: These are currency notes made from a specialised plastic-based material that offers greater resistance to moisture, dirt, and frequent handling.

Important Terms Explained:

- Field Trial: It is a limited real-world test conducted to examine how a product performs under practical conditions before wider implementation.

Important Terms Explained:

- Section 25 of the RBI Act, 1934: It provides for the design, form, and material of banknotes to be approved by the Central Government on the recommendation of the RBI's Central Board.
