➤ What is the maximum engagement range of DRDO's 30kW directed-energy laser weapon against drones, UAVs and surveillance sensors?

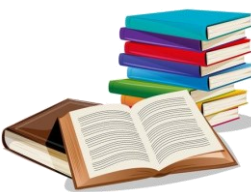

- A) 1 km
- B) 2 km
- C) 3 km
- D) 5 km
- E) 10 km

Answer
D) 5 km.

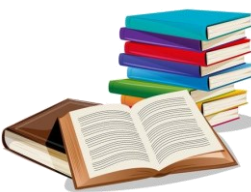

Event and Location:

- Event: The Defence Research and Development Organisation plans to seek an industry partner for its 30kW-class directed-energy weapon to move the system closer to production.
- Location: The truck-mounted laser weapon is being developed in India for counter-drone and air-defence applications.

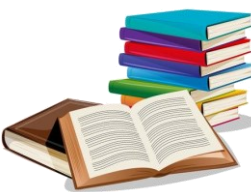

Event and Location:

- Date: The development was reported on September 21, 2026, with DRDO planning to issue an Expression of Interest within the next six months.

Mandates and Objectives:

- Mandates: DRDO plans to issue an Expression of Interest to select an industrial partner for developing the first-of-production model of its 30kW laser-based weapon after successful technology demonstration and trials.

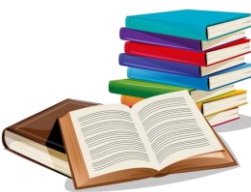

Mandates and Objectives:

- Objectives: The system is intended to counter drone swarms, fixed-wing unmanned aerial vehicles and surveillance sensors at ranges of up to 5 km using high-powered directed energy instead of conventional missiles or projectiles.

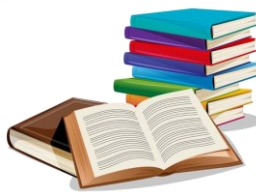

Important Terms Explained:

- Directed Energy Weapon: A DEW uses concentrated energy such as lasers or microwaves to damage or disable critical components of a target, including engines, sensors and electronic systems.

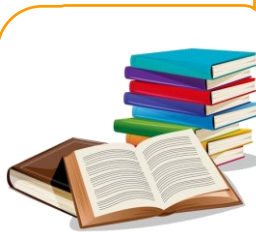

Important Terms Explained:

- First-of-Production Model: FOPM refers to the initial production-standard version of a system developed after successful technology demonstration and before larger-scale manufacturing.

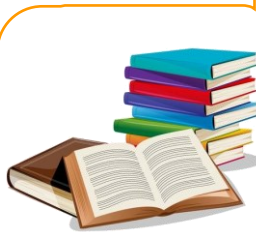

Important Terms Explained:

- Acceptance of Necessity: AoN is a key stage in India's defence procurement process that formally recognises the operational requirement for acquiring a particular system or capability.

Important Terms Explained:

- OODA Loop: OODA stands for Observe, Orient, Decide and Act, describing the sequence through which an air-defence system detects, assesses and responds to a threat.

Tabular Summary:

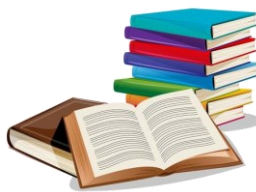

Parameter	Details
System	DRDO's 30kW-class laser-based directed-energy weapon.
Industry plan	DRDO plans to seek an industrial partner through an Expression of Interest within six months.
Production stage	The selected partner will help develop the first-of-production model.
Maximum range	The 30kW system can engage specified targets at ranges of up to 5 km.
Primary targets	The weapon is designed to counter drone swarms, fixed-wing UAVs and surveillance sensors.
Trial status	The final trial of the system was conducted in August 2025, after which the technology was considered demonstrated and proven.
Related systems	DRDO has also developed 2kW and 10kW DEW systems, with the 10kW version having reached the AoN stage.
Operational significance	The system provides a rapid-response counter-drone option using laser energy rather than conventional ammunition.
